FACULTY DEVELOPMENT SESSIONS

Session A: 9:10-10:00

Session B: 10:10-11:00

Session C: 11:10-12:00

 Each presentation will be given three times, once for each session.

Room 201 Student Success Collaborative Training
Sara Kuzmik, PLNU's Student Success Consultant from Washington D.C. and Mark Pitts, Facilitators

This session will feature an introduction/ review of standard Student Success Collaborative features and activities, an introduction of new features to aid faculty advisors and department chairs, and a preview of the new EAB Campus advising and communication tool scheduled for implementation in January. All full-time faculty should attend one of the three sessions.

Room 202 Effective Writers ⇔ Effective Experts
Kathryn Belsey Huff, Facilitator

Resources and strategies for designing writing assignments that equip students for success in the disciplines. We will be designing writing assignments that stimulate critical thinking, provide discipline-centered writing opportunities, and promote student confidence and expertise.

Room 203 Getting Students to Come to Class Prepared
John Dally and Jo Clemmons, Facilitators

Students' study habits have changed! Think how wonderful it would be to have students who did their homework and came to class eager to learn. The strategies you'll learn in this workshop have the power to change the dynamics in your class. It can also make teaching a lot more fun!

Room 204 Disabling Difference: Strategies for Teaching Students with Disabilities
Nichole Hope-Moore, Facilitator

The number of students with disabilities in college is growing! We will look at strategies to tweak your current teaching approach, addressing a variety of disabilities such as ADHD, autism, anxiety and others.

Room 205 Reducing Classroom Incivility
Lindsey Lupo, Facilitator

In this session, we'll discuss common ways that students act in an oppositional manner and how teachers themselves often contribute to the cycle of incivility. We'll also consider strategies for dealing with incivility, including the provision of a clear and meaningful rationale for classroom civility and the establishment of an ongoing practice of immediacy.

Room 207 Finding Learning Resources in Canvas Commons
Katie Jacobson, Facilitator

What if you could find "already made" bits of instruction to use in your Canvas course? Canvas Commons is an Open Educational Resource (OER), which offers instructional resources created by users in the Canvas Community who want to share their work. Come learn about OERs, Canvas Commons and Creative Commons licensing which allows educators to share what they have created without all the restrictions imposed by copyright law.
